

.LONDON

It really did feel like a great opportunity for us to put London in the heart of more business identity, more individual identity."

Jo Darwin
Director
.LONDON

The .LONDON top-level domain (TLD) actively champions businesses, organisations, and individuals eager to associate with the capital, with a particular emphasis on fostering local business growth through initiatives like the "Grow London Local" programme.

This digital reflection of the city's culture spans from iconic sites like Sky Garden to the current Mayor's campaign. Beyond big names, .LONDON empowers local businesses, following approximately 5,000 active websites across sectors like real estate, health, and consultancies to better understand its audience.